

Owen McGonigal

is an incredible individual who continuously supports others and champions the efforts of MDC in breaking down barriers for the neuromuscular community. Owen has supported the community by fundraising for Walk & Roll and Fill the Boot fundraisers, he promotes these events and encourages participation and donations from friends across the country, and consistently advocates for others affected by neuromuscular disorders. At 19, Owen has been involved with MDC for the majority of his life as he began speaking at events and connecting with Fire Fighters as a young child.

Owen has been awarded multiple Dr David Green Awards. He is always willing to share his story and has inspired many Canadians. Owen is currently a student at the Ivey School of Business at Western University and is a huge hockey fan!
